
What best demonstrates the advanced practice registered nurse professional leadership?

adding clinical protocols to the advanced practice nurse's scope of practice.

comparing the workplace roles of the registered nurse and the advanced practice nurse.

creating a task force to address scope of practice concerns.

lobbying to eliminate continuing education requirements.

Which APN role was purposely created to be broad in scope but in recent years that broadness has caused challenges understanding exactly what they can do?

CNS CNM CRNA NP

The scope of practice of an Adult/Gerontological PC NP allows evaluation of what age group of patients?

Newborns to elderly

21 years and up

13 years and up

only 65 and older

The AGNP working in primary care is made aware of a denial of services for one of her patients. Which action demonstrates an appropriate competency and skill?

mentoring staff to investigate the patient's needs acceptance and articulation to explain to the patient the reason for denial advocacy through communication to the denying agency and reviewing other options articulating to the collaborating physician as likely the MD can make this happen

The adult-gerontology primary care nurse practitioner is appointed to a hospital's multidisciplinary medical ethics review committee. What is the role of the nurse practitioner on this committee?:

evaluate standards, risks, benefits, and outcomes.

identify how to anticipate and resolve similar future situations.

investigate the need for disciplinary action.

obtain agreement of all parties with a chosen solution.